ZenPad^o

Thank you for choosing our ZenPads. The ZenPads can help you to make your everyday life more vital and active. It is very easy to use, flexible and effective. Countless satisfied customers, doctors and therapists confirm the positive effect of the ZenPads every day.

The energy-booster for your cells!

Frequency stimulation can support self-healing and wellbeing. The energy booster for your cells!

When your body is out of balance, the corresponding ZenPad could help to support rapid cell regeneration and to increase your well-being by emitting the relevant frequencies. The ZenPads are made of medical-grade silicone with an added silicium-mineral based powder carrier material where the respective frequency patterns for various applications are stored, are non-invasive, chemical-free, drug-free and medicationfree. The adhesive patches are skinfriendly and latex-free.

ZenPad^o

Each ZenPad undergoes a process of different electro-magnetic treatments. The patterns permanently stored in the ZenPad could have a positive influence on the body's own frequencies on cellular level. The organism absorbs the new frequency patterns of the pad and the energy fields of the cells are positively influenced from the outside without chemical additives, chips or magnets. The new frequency patterns provide gentle stimulation and promote the body's regeneration and energy balance without side effects, helping to keep the body in good condition.

relax

In cases of stress, tiredness and exhaustion, the ZenPad relax could help to mobilize the body's own energy reserves and thus increase your wellbeing.

Activate your energy battery with frequency-based cell stimulation. You know how important good, sufficient sleep and regeneration are for the body. If this is lacking, fatigue, lack of concentration and listlessness may be the results. The ZenPad relax could give your body the right vibes to transform these negative vibrations into positive energy. You recharge your batteries for the challenges of everyday life.
